Quakers in the Pros

Jim Finn
1995-98

Jim Finn will enter his third season with the New York Giants after inking a five-year deal with the NFC East team this offseason. Finn was originally drafted by the Chicago Bears in the 1999 NFL Draft with the final selection (253), earning him the distinction of "Mr. Irrelevant." However, Finn's professional career has been anything but irrelevant as he signed a free agent contract with the Indianapolis Colts prior to the 2000 season. Finn spent three seasons with the Colts, including two as a starter at fullback and two as team captain.

While at Penn, Finn was a two-time unanimous first-team All-Ivy selection and the Ancient Eight's Player of the Year in 1998 after helping the Red and Blue to the Ivy crown. Finn started his Quakers' career on defense before switching to tailback in 1997, where he graduated as Penn's fourth all-time leading rusher with 2,251 yards. More impressive was Finn's single-season program record of 1,450 yards he posted during the 1998 season. His 28 career rushing touchdowns ranks him fourth in program history. Finn's finest hour came on Oct. 24, 1998 in Providence, R.I. when he set an Ivy League record with six rushing touchdowns against Brown. His 36 points and six touchdowns are still Ancient Eight records.

Rob Milanese
1999-2002

This past fall Rob Milanese shined as a rookie with the Philadelphia Soul of the Arena Football League (AFL). His performance earned him a two-year deal with the San Diego Chargers of the National Football League (NFL). A golden age in Penn Football came to an end with the graduation of Milanese, who left the program as its all-time leader in career receptions and receiving yards. Milanese, who has previously signed as a free agent with the New England Patriots and the New York Jets, finished his Red and Blue career with 3,405 receiving yards and 259 receptions. His 21 career receiving touchdowns ranks him second all-time in program history. In addition to his Quakers numbers, this four-time All-Ivy recipient (first-team in 2002) and George A. Munger Award winner (as Penn's offensive MVP in 2002) finished third all-time in Ivy League history in receptions, fifth in receiving yards and eighth in receiving touchdowns. Milanese's name is literally peppered throughout all the Red and Blue record pages as the former Quakers' wide receiver holds the following program marks - single-season receiving yards (1,112), single-game receptions (15), single-season receptions (85). In addition, Milanese is also ranked fourth all-time in program history with 3,539 all-purpose yards.

Ben Noll
2000-03

Former Quaker football student-athlete Ben Noll will be entering his first full season as an offensive lineman with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League (NFL). Noll signed with the Cowboys last season and started twice. Last spring Noll signed a one-year free agent contract with the St. Louis Rams. Noll becomes the second Quaker offensive lineman to sign with an NFL organization in 2004 as Michael Powers signed a free agent contract with the Cincinnati Bengals. The Red and Blue are coming off a season where the men up front help to produce a 1,000-yard rusher and receiver as well as a quarterback that threw for more than 2,400 yards. The Wildwood, Mo. native helped propel the Penn offense to 34.6 points per game (second in the Ivy League), 170.8 yards per game on the ground (third) as well as 267.4 yards through the air (third) in 2003, while only surrendering 12 sacks, the fewest in the Ancient Eight. Noll played in 39 of a possible 40 games during his career with the Quakers, earning All-Ivy honors during his junior and senior seasons, as a second and first-team selection, respectively. He was a letterwinner all four seasons in Red and Blue and walked away from Franklin Field with a pair of Ivy League Championship rings.

Duval Thompson
2001-04

Duval Thompson left a legacy behind when he hung up his Red and Blue uniform after the 2004 Penn football season. The Calumet City, Ill. native entered his senior campaign as a Sports Network preseason All-American and did not disappoint. One day after the 2005 National Football League Draft, Thompson received a call from the St. Louis Rams to join them in mini-camp. Thompson is working alongside fellow Ancient Eight graduate Ryan Fitzpatrick (Harvard) to earn a spot on the Rams regular season squad. Thompson made 29 stops with one tackle for a five-yard loss, one interception and broke up six passes during his final season with the Quakers. For his career, Thompson amassed 116 tackles (87 solo), 2.5 tackles for loss, five interceptions and 18 deflected passes. His 2004 performance garnered first-team All-Ivy League selections as one of only two players on the defensive side of the ball to be a unanimous selection. He was also one of only two Ivy Leaguers to be selected to participate in the 2005 Hula Bowl. Thompson was a two-time first-team All-Ivy League selection during his tenure with the Quakers.
